

Build community and your career.

The Direct Support Profession will change the way you think of work.

Our industry needs good listeners like you to support people with disabilities in Manitoba. Build connections and learn valuable skills that expand your world.

Go into work knowing you're making a positive impact and your effort makes a difference in the lives of the people you support and those who love them. When you love what you do and how you're both growing, it doesn't feel like work.
